MONDAY, AUGUST 6, 1906.

There are fourteen counties in Vermont, but one-ninth of the school property lies in Washington county.

The loss of Windsor county would make quite a hole in the Republicans' solid Vermont phalanx this fall.

There will be four more weeks of heat—political heat, at least, and probably atmospheric—in Vermont.

A glance at the Washington county bankruptcy court business of Saturday should not mislead the reader, for the docket was the accumulation of several weeks. In fact, it was the first real work of the court since Edward J. Douvill resigned and W. N. Theriault took the office. This word is put in lest the belief become general that bankruptcy has become a habit with Washington county people.

Place most men in a position of danger to themselves and they become wild beasts, nothing more or less. The terrible sea disaster of Saturday night is the latest illustration of the nature of man.

Parents outside of Barre who are looking about for a school in which to place their children, would make no mistake in choosing the Spaulding high school of Barre. With a teaching force of eight college graduates, the institution is in a position to give efficient instruction in all the high school branches. The Spaulding school, which

LOSERS COULDN'T HIT REED OF CRESCENTS

Latter Defeated Graniteville Saturday Afternoon by the Score of 18 to 0.

The fast Crescent ball team of this city defeated the Woodmen of Graniteville on the latter's grounds Saturday afternoon by the score of 18 to 0. The Woodmen were powerless before Reed's pitching, getting but five hits, while the Crescents pounded Jacobs for 17 safe ones. The Graniteville men bunched two hits and a base on balls in the fifth, the nearest they came to scoring, but Reid settled down immediately. His team backed him up finely, making no errors.

The Crescents play the Italian team either Tuesday or Wednesday and go to Brookfield Saturday. The score:

WASHINGTON.

The state highway tax of the town of Washington for 1906 was $149.35. Her apportionment by the state was $580.12. Her gain under the present system of taxation was $430.77. Mr. Clement's Democratic platform would deprive Washington of this material gain. Will the voters of Washington stand for it?—Adv.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Worthley returned yesterday from Randolph, where they have been stopping for two weeks.

The farm buildings of Thomas Hyland were destroyed by fire Wednesday night, cause supposed to be a defective chimney. The family escaped, with the clothing they had on, and two feather beds, a sewing machine and two chairs were all that was saved. The family has the sympathy and will appreciate assistance of any kind they may receive from anyone. A popular subscription is now in the hands of G. H. Bigelow, who will receive anything that will benefit the afflicted family.

L. G. Harris and son, Howard, who have been employed at Stouck's mill for the past few months, have finished work and moved to Barre Thursday.

Wright Conner is moving to the A. T. Newman farm.

E. M. Seaver with his family went to Chelsea yesterday for the day.

GREAT SUMMER CLEARANCE SALE

Time has come again to clear summer stocks and get ready for a change in weather, some time off, we know, but none too early for us to get ready. It will be the last of a series of successful selling events of spring and summer merchandise this season, and has reason to be the Greatest Summer Clearance Sale we ever had. With our new store, pleasant surroundings and large stock to choose from, we're going into it with the same vim that is characteristic of this store and have marshalled prices down to where they will tempt women of judgment, women who know values, women who can tell the difference between a good thing and one made to imitate it. We haven't marked down everything in the store, and we don't want you to think so. It's the things we advertise we call your special attention to. We take this precaution because, in sometimes past, customers have thought that everything, from beeswax to the sigh, could be bought at a discount
